Hello everybody!

Hello! it's me Riaru!
As you may have noticed, there isn't a new chapter today...
Yes, I know this has happened before but, this week, everyday work surpasses me.
I will make it up to you; I promise! How?
With requests!!

As you might remember, on April 5th, I published the requests that you guys left as comments in a previous post.

I will read your comments to learn what the requests are, and I will choose the ones that have more likes or those that stand out more to me.

These will be published on Friday the 25th of this month, so you have until Thursday to leave your comment and/or like!
